

PAC WORLD CONFERENCE 2024

17 - 21 June, 2024
Athens, Greece

Sponsorship Opportunities

The 2024 PACWorld conference will provide the protection, automation and control community with an unrivalled opportunity to meet in an environment that will allow the attendees to discuss their challenges, share ideas and improve their understanding of the components of the smart grid of the future and how they all fit together. The main goal of the PAC World conference is to bring together professionals in the fields of protection, automation, control, communications, DERs and other power system domains in order to learn about the latest developments in the industry and share experience and ideas how we can all work together to make the grid smarter in the most efficient way. By sponsoring the PAC World conference you will have the opportunity to reach influential members of the protection, automation and control community, to demonstrate and discuss the application of your latest products in an open and progressive environment. Take advantage of this chance to interact with key players during this auspicious event.

To reserve your sponsorship, please request from the conference organizers the Sponsorship Order Form by sending an e-mail to pacwc@pacw.org
